I am an entrepreneur and I always seek to find a way to help and give back to the community. I am an IT, information systems security, by trade and I can share my insight into any technology questions. But most of all, I am a father and I want to have a safe and productive neighborhood where everyone knows everyone by name as good folks do like back in the day when a village knows all their neighbors and greet each other with smile and respect. I long for a change and perhaps I can help in this manner.
